DETAILED ACTION

Allowable Subject Matter

1. Claims 1 through 3 are allowed over the prior art. The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance: the present invention is directed to power saving technique as a mobile station interfacing with information processing device. The independent claim identifies uniquely distinct feature "means for deactivating the information processing section and the interface when the radio communications section is in the transmission". The prior art Swail (US 5,630,224) disclose a portable computing device may deactivate by disabling a power supply or a display or modifying a processor clock during active time of the transceiver. However, the prior art does not deactivate the interface and information processor during the transmission. The prior art does not anticipate or render the underline limitation obvious.

Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."
